The USDA, Rural Utilities Service has received an application for federal assistance from the Jefferson County Public Service District. The purpose of this notice is to inform the public of the proposed project, which consists constructing a 15 inch diameter inceptor from the Northern Route 9 collection system to convey flows to the site of the existing Breckenridge pump station. The Breckenridge pump station will be replaced with a manhole during this project and a 24 inch diameter gravity interceptor will be constructed within the Flowing Springs Basin from the Breckenridge pump station to the proposed 0.35 MGD average daily flow pump station (Halltown PS) near the Breckenridge East Subdivision. A new 12 inch force main from the proposed Halltown pump station will be placed in the same trench as the 24 inch gravity line to convey the flows back to the site of the Breckenridge pump station where it will be joined to the existing 8-inch force main which terminates at the Ranson Flowing Springs pump station. In addition, the 8-inch force main will have cleanouts installed to provide for its continued reliable service.

This project allows the District to decommission 5 pump stations. The Breckenridge pump station (3-7) will be relocated further south to Halltown and will be called the Halltown pump station in the future. Pump stations 3-6 and 4-2 will be rehabilitated (pumps, rails, electrical/controls) in order to continue reliable service.

A public meeting will be held on February 1, 2016 from 6:30 to 7:30 (p.m.). The purpose of the meeting is to provide an opportunity to become acquainted with the proposed sewer transmission project and to comment on economic and environmental impacts, service area, or alternatives to the project.

The public can access information on the project at the District's website, http://www.jcpsd.com/index.php?option=com_docman&Itemid=150. Information is also available at the District's office. Written questions on the project can be submitted prior to the close of business on January 27, 2016.

For further information regarding the proposed project, please contact the Jefferson County Public Service District at 340 Edmond Road, Suite A, Kearneysville, WV 25430, or by telephone at 304-725-4647.
